CHIEF EXECUTIVE HERE FOR INDUSTRIAL TOUR

BY BILL PHILLIPS

Just how important was Monday's West End Industrial Tour which received the wholehearted backing of every progressive businessman and civic leader in the Greater Upland area?

Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, governor of the State of California, gave the answer during his speech in Red Hill Country Club that night. Said the Governor:

"The presence of the Chief Executive himself when local leaders actively try to stimulate the economy of their area was something I could not forego. This (the Industrial Tour) is an example of what I would like to see all over the state."

Elated by approval of his $1.75-billion water program by the Senate Finance Committee that day in Sacramento, Governor Brown fairly bounced into midst of the industrialists West End civic leaders had hosted on the all-day tour of Upland, Cucamonga, Alta Loma, Etiwanda, Ontario, Vina Vista and Montclair.

Dark hair slickly in place, eyes shining through his dark-rimmed glasses, the Governor thundered out his four-point program which is based on economic development of the state. Sometimes reading from his notes, sometimes speaking off the cuff in his strong, often harsh voice, Gov. Brown occasionally faltered and stumbled through his words due to his eagerness to make a point.

His four-point plan: 1. Encourage and aid industrial development. 2. Complete a statewide water program. 3. Establish a sound, economic budget. 4. Obtain efficiency and economy in government.

The Governor pointed out that the Economic and Development Agency advocated by Senate Bill 43 is worded as being "at request of the Governor." Declared Gov. Brown: "This is novel and new in Sacramento, I for the first time have put this — at request of the Governor — on bills so that everyone will know where I stand. I don't expect to get everything I stand for. Good, intelligent opposition will see to that."

Purpose of the Economic and Development Agency: To serve as a central coordinating agency to augment local groups (such as backers of the Industrial Tour, according to the Governor) in obtaining industrial facts for busy executives and selling California to new industry. The Governor said he hoped for passage in a week or 10 days.

Importance of adequate water for the West End of San Bernardino County was emphasized by Gov. Brown when he noted, "Near Upland the water table has dropped 55 feet in the last 10 years. If you don't have water down here, you're dead. I want to bring the water to human beings."

On balancing the budget, the Governor declared, "If you think it is easy for a Democrat to cut the salary of state employes from the 7½ per cent raise advocated by the last administration to 5 per cent, you are wrong. I know taxes are not popular. But I have too much respect for the people and sympathy for my successor to take the easy way out. If a balanced budget does not come to me, I will use the Governor's blue pencil."

Airport At Ontario Is Expanding

Highlighting the Monday, May 25 West End Industrial Tour prior to address by Governor Brown at Red Hill Country Club were talks by oilman Edwin Pauley and Thomas Flaherty, Ontario International Airport manager, during luncheon in Lockheed cafeteria.

Mr. Pauley described the "great possibilities" of Vina Vista in which he has an interest, the Ontario International Airport, and the general area.

Mr. Pauley said he had 3600 acres for industrial development, with 1900 acres next to the airport. He said the communities favored growth, that planning and zoning all were taken care of.

The Ontario airport has "nothing like it in the U. S." for potential development, he said. He said Idlewild Airport in New York was the "closest" to the Ontario Airport.

He said $30 million has been invested, that $1,600,000 in revenue bonds were passed for development, that $750,000 was being spent for an administration building, and that $800,000 was being put into land development.

He said American Airlines and Trans - World Airlines were coming into the Ontario airport because of the long runways needed for their jets. He said Burbank facilities would be abandoned by these airlines, which will help make Ontario the "No. 2 airport in the Los Angeles metropolitan area."

Dual runways are being planned, as are major extensions of runways. One hundred acres is set aside for industrial development at $600 a year per acre rental.

Ralph Miller, Upland realtor who chairmanned the tour, described the new industrial climate which was welcoming industry to the area.

He praised and introduced those planning the tour.

Winners Named In Cute Baby Contest

Pretty little Deloris Grant of Alta Loma won second prize, a $50.00 U.S. Savings Bond, in the "Cutest Baby in Town" Contest sponsored by the Frank Stiffler Photography Studio. Balloting last week for the five prize winners were the parents of the 203 contestants. That interest ran high was shown by the fact that more than 80 per cent of the parents turned out to vote. The contest was limited to residents within a 15 mile radius of the Ontario Studio, and contestants came from Upland, Alta Loma, Cucamonga, Etiwanda, Fontana, Montclair, Ontario, Pomona and Chino.

Deloris is two years old, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Grant, 7214 Agate St., Alta Loma. Other winners in the contest were, for first prize, Desiree Goebel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Goebel of Ontario; third prize, Christy Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Brown, Ontario; Cheryl King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orren King, Fontana; and Denise McCoy, daughter of Mrs. Evelyn McCoy of Ontario.

Car Of Death For Sheriff's Deputy

This is what was left of the patrol car which brought death to West End substation deputy William J. Litz, 29, 805 B. Granada Ct., Ontario, when struck by a westbound Santa Fe freight train at Hellman Ave. and Eighth St. at 5:33 a.m. Saturday, May 23.

The impact hurled the car 30 feet against a utility pole on the railroad right-of-way. Traveling 55 mph, the train's engine carried the deputy's body 85 feet from the smashed auto.

Air Force S/Sgt. Leland Clarence Graves, 962 E. I St., Ontario, a passenger in the car, was also thrown out. He received emergency treatment at San Antonio Community Hospital and was taken to Norton Air Force Base Hospital in San Bernardino. The S/Sgt. is an Ontario police reserve who had applied for a deputy sheriff assignment.

Rentals Prey Of 'Con' Man

Owners of rental units in the Greater Upland area were this week warned by Upland Police Department that a "con" man or possibly a gang of them are operating in the West End.

Two checks, one signed James S. Martin, the other Ted Rice, have been passed by at least one member of the gang in Upland, costing local persons approximately $40 in each case.

Method of operation was described like this:

The suspect looks at a rental in an apartment, rooming house or home. Accepting it, he offers a check for the first month's rent, exceeding the required rent by $40 or more. After he receives his change, he is never seen again.

Description of the local suspect was male white American, 35, 5-8, 160, with dark curly hair and a scar on the right eye lid.

YOU WILL MEET YOUR CARRIER BOY THIS WEEK

This is the fourth issue of The Upland News to be delivered to every home in Upland.

We hope you have enjoyed The News and like reading the local news each week.

This weekend your carrier boy will come around to ask you if delivery of the newspaper has been satisfactory. (There always are a few "kinks" to work out in a new system). So please tell him, or us, about any difficulties so we may serve you to the best of our ability.

If you like reading the News, you may show your appreciation to the carrier by paying him 35 cents. Be sure to get a receipt for you may win a prize this month.

The boy is in business for himself and the money he will make and the prizes he wins depends strictly upon his prompt and satisfactory delivery of the newspaper and his time and efforts.

If you do not care to pay the boy for the newspaper, that will be fine, too, and please accept the newspaper with the boy's and our compliments, for he still will continue to deliver it every week.

Those who are "paid-in-advance" subscribers under the old system WILL NOT be called upon by the boy. He will have with him a list of every paid subscriber, and The News will pay each boy for delivering the paper until it runs out; then you may start paying the boy directly if you wish.

Upland has needed and asked for a much stronger, better, and more widely-read newspaper. This new system is a major step in that direction.

Slow: Youth Endangered

Motorists passing through the Red Hill area near Valle Vista School were this week urged to pay more attention to the problems of children who walk to school there.

Principal Dorothy Hickox and Mrs. H. L. Archibald, juvenile protection chairman of the PTA safety committee, pointed out that installation of water pipe and now resurfacing work in the area have forced many youngsters to walk a mile to school.

Mothers wearing orange arm-bands are out three times a day in an effort to furnish adult protection for the children, but many motorists have not responded to requests to drive slowly and make necessary stops, thus endangering youngsters.

Rabies Clinic In Upland Scheduled

Rabies shots for dogs are good for two years, Richard Davis, Upland humane officer, reminded the public today. "Dogs that received a rabies shot one year ago do not need a booster at this time," reminded Mr. Davis upon announcing the Upland Rabies Clinic for June 3 and 4 at Upland Police Department.

Another speaker introduced by Miss Pitts was Mrs. Stephanie Williams, of Burbank, who has spent much time both in Sacramento and Washington D. C., fighting for mental health laws which would protect the rights of citizens, and the importance of a "bill-of-rights" for the mentally ill.

Lighting District Meet In Cucamonga

Cucamonga District lighting committee, chairmanned by Ralph T. Santolucito, met with Don Rawlinson, lighting consultant of Southern California Edison Co., Ontario, in Cucamonga District Chamber of Commerce office Friday morning, May 22.

Plans were formulated for what is hoped to result in the proposed lighting district within the next six months. Mr. Rawlinson told the committee that if the district is formed by Feb. 1, the street lights can be installed by July.

Mr. Santolucito and committee member Charles Smith, president of Cucamonga Chamber of Commerce, delegated Hollis Guthrie, secretary of the chamber, to contact San Bernardino County counsel on necessary steps to form the lighting district.

Home owners in two Cucamonga tracts — Sycamore Gardens at Arrow and Hellman, and Paradise Homes on Turner north of Foothill Blvd. — have requested installation of ornamental steel, tract type poles. The district is requesting 18 wooden poles.

Locations indicated for the wooden pole installations are along Archibald at Base Line, Church, San Bernardino Road, Estacia Ct.; Foothill at Ramona, between Ramona and Archibald, Klusman, Second Ave., Hellman, Baker and Vineyard; San Bernardino Road at Hellman and Klusman; on Archibald 300 feet south, Arrow, Ramona, Turner and Ninth Street.

Walkway To Post Office Studied

City Manager Elwin Alder, in conjunction with the Street Committee, will present figures and recommendation June 2 on a proposal to blacktop a walkway from Third Ave. down C St. to Upland's new post office.

The proposal was made to City Council following complaints about having to walk in the street to reach the post office. Mr. Alder estimated cost at 13 cents per square foot of blacktopping at a distance of 500 to 600 feet.

Land between Third Ave. and the post office on C St. is planned for a shopping center development. The overall development eventually proposes sidewalks along frontage stores with remainder of the area for parking, Mr. Alder reported.

Improvement Study Okayed On Hellman

With an 18,000 sq. ft. Mayfair Market and shopping center in the offing at Foothill Blvd. and Hellman Ave. in Cucamonga, the San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors has approved an improvement study of the intersection.

Currently more a storm drain than a legitimate street, Hellman Ave.'s connections at Foothill have created traffic hazards for many years.

Supervisor Richard Manley reported property owners have stated willingness to donate necessary rights-of-way to facilitate improvement of the area.

Some Like It Hot

Clark Shacklett, Etiwanda poultryman, found that if the water in an egg washer is too hot it will increase the number of "checked" eggs. Mr. Shacklett was recently running about 20 per cent checks. On investigating, he found temperature of the water used in his egg washer was almost boiling. Turning down the water heater solved the problem.

IS IT SAFE?

Ralph H. Miller
President
Director

Mrs. Stewart asked Ralph Miller, President of Upland Savings, just how safe her savings at Upland Savings were. She's an elderly person, canny . . . and very cautious.

Ralph explained, "Mrs. Stewart, as you know, all accounts at Upland are doubly insured by instrumentalities of the United States Government up to the amount of $10,000. And, in addition, when we make loans, we thoroughly appraise the property, and we arrange loan terms a borrower will be able to meet. Our loans are made on homes . . . property. Through the years, it has been proven that there is no sounder financial return than that made on land itself.

"Should, by any chance, a loan obligation not be met, a substantial reserve is available at Upland Savings to cover all savings and interest payments."

Feel free to stop in at Upland Savings with your questions on savings and loan associations. They are always pleased to be of service to you.

Mutual Benefits Enjoyed By Upland College, City

We hope that our newly-accredited four-year college and our city continues to become entwined more and more with each other.

Both city and college will benefit each other.

The moral, cultural, intellectual and spiritual forces generated by Upland being a "college town" are impossible to measure, but they are so great upon the lives of residents.

From a "hard money" standpoint, Upland College means that about $285,000 will be available for spending in Upland each year.

This includes $85,000 for salaries; $100,000 for food, shelter, and similar items; and another $100,00 for expenditures of students, extra curricular activities, visitors to the campus, etc.

It has been estimated that a college student is "worth" $1500 yearly to the community in which he gets his education.

These figures do not figure in land, buildings, or other investments — which "incidently" total another $350,000.

Now that Upland College no longer is a restricted college from a denominational standpoint, but encompassing every strata and branch . . . Upland has a "Golden Goose" in its front yard. In turn, Upland College is blessed with a wonderful community that is vitally interested in its welfare and progress.

Your Newspaper's Value

In the past three issues of the News, we have attempted to bring you the latest, most accurate news possible.

We have emphasized the news that has been important: the proposed Barr resignation as presidnt of the United Fund; the Cucamonga incorporation and annexation situation; the 53rd Birthday weekend in Upland; the straw vote and Council actions on fluoridation; biographical sketches of all Board candidates in elementary, high school, and college districts and who was elected.

Yes, we ran dozens of stories, all news-worthy, that make up activities in the area.

In our news columns we try to "mirror" what is happening in our area; in our editorial columns we voice our opinion to convince you or at least stimulate your thinking.

The value of your local newspaper is immeasurable. It is the greatest champion and ONLY voice the community has that represents the heart-felt spirit and welfare of Greater Upland.

Editorial

● The Birthday Party in Upland this past week showed a lot of life . . . and, we are sure, pleased spectators and participants whether from Upland or elsewhere. Upland is coming to life with a BANG these days . . . and a wonderful spirit of "looking toward the future." Our congratulations to the shoppers, the Upland Retail Merchants and its committees — for a major accomplishment.

● Biggest farce in the world today is the Communist world pretending to "negotiate" a "peaceful" settlement wih the Free World. The Reds cannot be trusted in any manner or means. Experience shows them to have only one true goal: worldwide domination.

● We hope some of the visitors on the industrial tour Monday will return to our fair area and visit us again. They are most welcome at any time.

Salina St. Assessment Spread Due

A resolution approving the assessment diagram on Salina St. under the 1911 Improvement Act has been approved by Upland City Council.

The project — installation of 4 and 8-inch sewer line and two manholes — cost $6441.

City Engineer Harold Wilder will spread the assessment against property owners in the improvement district. A date of hearing on the assessments will be set after that, according to City Manager Elwin Alder.

Citizens Protests Removal Of Trees

A letter of protest against removal of any more gravillea trees along Euclid Ave. was received by Upland City Council from Mrs. W.W. Mather, 530 N. Laurel Avenue.

Mrs. Mather said, "I hear many people say they do not want to see any more trees taken out."

Accountants Hold Technical Meet

National Assn. of Accountants, Pomona Valley chapter, held its ninth technical session May 21, in Elks Club, Pomona. Following a social hour at 6 p.m. and dinner at 7, Conrad C. Jamison, vice president and manager of research department of Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles, was introduced as guest speaker. Mr. Jamison discussed planning of business activities of management with particular reference to accounting procedures, and its use by management.

Permanent Status Awarded To Three

A member of the police department and two members of the fire department go on permanent status with the City of Upland June 1. They are Sgt. Joseph Blouin of the police department and Fire Engineers Ronald Riley and Wayland Gillespie.

EVASIVE ACTION?
Editor:

Citizens of Upland interested in Fluoridation who appeared at the May 19th meeting of the City Council left with some very definite impressions concerning Mayor Haldeman's skillful maneuvering and careful evasion of the information which they had expected to obtain. Accomplishing what is better known as the "brush off," valuable time was spent on contradictory statements commending the citizens of Upland for their "academic stature" and immediately following this with a comparison of anyone daring to voice his opinions at his Council meetings with a "dog who merely wishes to bark."

Mayor Haldeman's statement, "I could never be untrue or usurp an opportunity to inflict upon the people my own ideas, ideologies. . . with relation to the future of our city" was in complete violation of his dictatorial action in immediately "gagging" the audience by refusing to accept questions from them other than those questions he particularly wanted to answer.

1. Pior to the March 17th meeting, Mayor Haldeman informed the proponents they would have one-half hour to present their factual evidence concerning Fluoridation. Dictatorially, he slashed this allotment to 15 minutes after noting 30 experts present.

2. At the meeting of March 17th, Mayor Haldeman also arbitrarily ignored the recommendation by Mr. Kistinger that four citizens be appointed to the committee to study Fluoridation. Doesn't this definitely indicate infliction of his own ideas?

3. Mayor Haldeman has verbally boasted that no one knows his position on the issue of Fluoridation. As citizens, we take exception to this statement. This may be considered smart politics, but are Upland citizens interested in smart politicians or do they prefer to demand their right in knowing at all times - on any issue of city-wide importance - how their duly elected representatives stand?

Dear Mr. Hodell:

Please allow me to congratulate you upon your display of the pictures and the short sketches accompanying each of those running for school boards in our three districts. Forty-five years ago I seemed to know nearly everyone I met on the street and saw in public meetings. Alas! How the situation has changed.

As a long time teacher of government and politics I believe I have a sound basis of judgment in these matters, and I wish to say that you have given us a notable example of genuine journalism at its best.

My thanks to you for real help.

REAL ISSUE?
Law Offices
Mather, Thorne & Bailin
378 North Second Avenue
Upland, California

Dar Sir:

When public representatives freely elected by the people to conduct public affairs flee in panic from an issue vital to the community, can chaos and bigotry in government be far behind?

The tragedy of last week's meeting of the Upland City Council is not what happened to fluoridation, but rather the apalling refusal to consider the matter or even to explain that refusal. No, the real issue is no longer fluoridation.

The burning question to be answered by each and every citizen, regardless of his views upon that subject, is whether or not we have a right to a City Council composed of persons who will freely and independently determine the problems of our community by careful and intelligent consideration of the studies and evidence gathered from responsible sources.

Expectably, controversy was created where none should have logically existed . . . .

Upland was flooded with sickening propaganda . . . . We were told that our children would be born without ear lobes and other hideous malformations. Our senior citizens would be slowly poisoned. Our crops ruined. And so on ad nauseum.

Absurd? Of course! Ludicrous? Certainly! But the heart - rending finale came when a majority of our elected representatives, charged with the duty of governing our city, fell for this campaign of irresponsible hogwash. And, ignoring the overwhelming compendium of favorable evidence from every responsible and authoritative medical and scientific source including every level or city, county, state and national government, a majority of the members of our City Council fell all over themslves in a rush to avoid the issue, to sit on their hands, to bury their collective heads in the sand.

That is the tragedy of spinelessness and lack of courageous leadership which must disturb every thinking Uplander.

Respectfully yours,
Harold A. Bailin
Attorney at Law.

'ANTI' VOICE
14 May 1959
Dear Editor:

I have been forwarded information on the controversy in Upland over the proposal to fluoridate that city's water supply. Some of the statements made in support of fluoridation refer disparagingly to members of two organizations of which I am an officer, and because opposition to any compulsory mass medication is instinctive with me, I feel called upon to express myself in this case.

Upland being as close to Riverside as it is, I am quite surprised that even the slightest consideration is being given the fluoridation program. They still blush when fluoridation is mentioned there.

As is customary under the pressure of the U. S. Public Health Service, the usual ballyhoo for flurodiation was initiated by the local health authorities and members of the American Dental Association. The cry was taken up by numerous uninformed and easily led organizations who were for the most part probably sincere in their beliefs. The dentists and health officers appeared before the City Council, telling how the teeth were in a deplorable condition from decay, how they could not begin to cope with the problem, and how the only solution was fluoridation of the city's water supply. The City Fathers were convinced. They directed their City Health Officer to ascertain and advise them how much fluorine would have to be added to the water to bring its fluorine level to the specified optimum of one part per million (1.0 ppm.). The matter was quickly hushed. The embarrassed Health Officer had to report that Riverside water already contained the optimum concentration, occurring naturally.

Ottawa, Ill.; Mason City, Ia., and Belle Glade, Fla. had similar experiences. The fluoridation propagandists do not like to have these incidents mentioned. They are too, too embarrassing.

Nor do they like to hear about Ottawa, Kansas, which discontinued fluoridation after three years, because in that time it was found that decay had almost trebled among the children.

The Kansas City Star reported that the dentists of that city, under pressure by the socialistic Public Health Service, started the usual demand for fluoridation. The City Manager was an inquisitive fellow and did some research of his own. He found that Kansas City, with negligible fluorine in the water, had a DMF (decayed, missing, filled) rate of but 1.7 among its children as compared with a rate of 3.7, or over twice as much, among Grand Rapids children after six years of fluoridation.

These incidents conclusively show the failure of fluoridation to do what is claimed for it, not to mention the serious harm so often resultant from fluorine at strengths less than the recommended 1.0 ppm. The special committee of the American Medical Association appointed to re-evaluate fluoridation last summer reported to the Association that 1 out of 4 children using fluoridated water could be expected to have mottling of the dental enamel. This is often a severe disfigurement, and is the first and often the chronic fluorine poisonjng, fluorosis. I have color slides of my own patients showing mottling from as little as 0.4 naturally in the water. The committee further stated that fluoridation appeared to delay decay, but made no mention of any preventive effect.

The fact remains that on the decay diet typical of this country, decay will exist even with fluoridation. On a proper, non-decay diet, there will be no decay regardless of the fluorine content of the water or food used. Some of the best reports of good teeth and general health come from areas of the world with the least

Council's Moral Outlook

Mayor Speaks From 'Heart'

BY BILL PHILLIPS

It takes a controversial matter to draw the general public's attention to the actions of a public body. The normal makeup of the audience at a city council meeting, as an example, consists of those who have a personal interest in one specific item on the agenda, a few students and representatives of the press. Besides the Councilmen, city manager, city attorney and city clerk, the only regulars attending are the newspaper reporters.

The fluoridation controversy in Upland drew the general public's attention to the actions of City Council in that matter. So many questions anent council handling of the matter arose that Mayor Abner Haldeman was moved to speak directly to the audience at the May 19 meeting.

Because the general tenor of the mayor's remarks concern the moral outlook of Upland's city government, The Upland News deems it a public service to present the highlights of the mayor's address.

He started by saying that due to the number of questions he had received from citizens during the period fluoridation was under study by the council's Water Committee, he thought it advisable, for the good of the city, to talk informally.

"Factual evidences are always welcome," he said. "But we must keep in mind the future, the welfare and the conscience of every individual. . . There are two sides to every problem. I have been calld by persons whom I consider leaders in the community who told me they did not understand why the council handled the matter as it did. Mutual respect, each for the other, is important. If you do not trust me, or I respect you, we cannot talk things over."

The mayor said it was the council's duty to bring items together for the greater good of the people. Without tolerance and consideration between the council and the people, he said motivation of everyone around the council table and those working for the city could be of the highest type coupled with prayers to Almighty God and there would be misunderstanding.

"We need that evenness of support that wishes to be enlightened," Mayor Haldeman said.

On access of the public to the council and the council's responsibility, the mayor said every citizen has a right to come before the council. Every councilman has the right, he added, to bring anything in the interest of the city to the council without putting it on the agenda.

"I was administered an oath upon becoming a councilman," the mayor said, "and I feel a dynamic responsibility in that oath. I can't inflict upon the people my ideas without thinking of others."

He said it was his philosophy as mayor to allow any committee to work unharrassed by the chair. "One member of the committee at a time may have access to talk to me, but never the commitee together," he said. "We are governed by the Brown Act (a state law covering public bodies). We can have no spur-of-the-moment meetings. No three members of the council can meet without notifying the newspapers."

The mayor referred to the council minutes of March 17 when the Water Committee report on fluoridation was requested, noting that the wording in the minutes was "within 60 days." Said the mayor: "I apologize to the audience for not having made that more clear."

Mayor Haldeman said he was out of town during the week before the council meeting of May 5. He said he did not know the fluoridation report was to be made until the meeting itself. Questions came to him from both sides asking why the public had not been advised.

"It is not my philosophy to answer questions unless I consider it for the good of everyone concerned," the mayor said. "I usually like to take time to think and ponder. I do not pretend to know all there is to know in those areas."

Concluded the mayor: "Everyone of these councilmen with whom I work are on their toes. They are sharp. They know what's going on. With the Grace of God, we hope to give the community the best city government possible."

JUST BETWEEN US

Last week we spotted a group of shops in the 200 block on Foothill Blvd. in Claremont. After spending the better part of a day browsing among them, we thought you'd like to hear about them too. It's easy to park the car and walk to all these shops — most are in the same block on the same side of the street.

A journey into 30 distant lands with Mr. George Griswold as a guide was my happy fortune when I stepped through the door of his Gift Shop at Yale Ave. and Foothill Blvd. in Claremont.

Among his choice imports which took us on our imaginative journey are Venetian glass from Italy; Royal Delft china from Holland; unsurpassed glass ware and accessories from the north countries, Sweden, Denmark, Finland; table linens and wood and ivory carved pieces from India; bold and unusual accessories from Israel and distinctive wood sculpture from East Africa and Yugoslavia! There are items in this shop from Australia and Siam, Formosa and Ecuador, and from the top designers and artists in our own Beverly Hills, Pasadena and New York.

And from Mexico and the Great American West Mr. Griswold carries exquisite Indian prints and the best of art objects.

One of the most popular lines in Mr. Griswold's Gift Shop is jewelry. He carries a large selection of domestic sterling silver and foreign imported jewelry. We noted stunning pieces from Spain, Siam, China, and Los Angeles!

Mr. Griswold says he specializes in place mats and table linens, and the selection is indeed very large. A tour through his shop shows his real specialities are discriminating taste and a love of the beautiful and unusual. When travelling on Foothill, you are invited to stop in and browse.

A note from Jerre: Did you know that Jerre Holden of Upland has been in business at Petite Paris, 212 W. Foothill Blvd. in Claremont for almost a year?

Jerre is featuring casual clothes, such as Lady Hathaway shirts and F. B. Hargen shorts in the shop these days. The Lady Hathaway shirts are priced from 4.95, made of English cotton, iron like a dream and wear forever. And the F. B. Hargen shorts are tailored to perfection, perfect for golfing and come in sharkskin and cotton twill. Among the lines of dresses at Petite Paris are Pat Premos for long-waisted gals. You can see some of them at Jerre's luncheon fashion shows at the Stuft Shirt June 12 and the Magic Lamp June 24.

A salon designed especially to please women is that of Mr. Tye, Artiste in Hair Fashion, at 218 W. Foothill Blvd. in Claremont. Margrett Steele Biggers, a top decorator of this area, chose colors and appointments for the salon that would appeal to women's taste and comfort.

This theme is carried throughout — even to the air-conditioned dryers, with twice-filtered pre-warmed air. Wearing a net is unnecessary under these dryers!

Mr. Tye insists his customers have the best — the best in hair cutting, styling and permanents. And beginning next week, Mr. Pat O'Neal will be associated with Mr. Tye in the salon.

Once upon a time there was a little shop at 226 W. Foothill Blvd., Claremont, that sold home-made jams and jellies. Then it added candied fruits, then its own candy, and gift items, and now through the years Griswold's Candied Fruits has grown, kind of like topsy, into a magical sort of place out of a storybook.

The latest addition is a new Danish bakery complete with an expert baker from Denmark. The pastries from this new bakery are mouth-watering and this week's specials are Orange Butter ring, 43c, Onion and Cheese bread, 35c and Cinnamon Crisps, six for 35c.

For the party-minded, fancifully decorated petit fours are offered by the Danish bakery, made of butter cream, marzipan, raspberry, suger 'n spice, and all that's nice.

Downstairs, in the stone cellar, there is a room of imported gourmet items; another of gifts for the hostess; another of party favors and accessories, and yet another is an art exhibit by a local artist. During the month of June, paintings by Bronislawa Noyi of Cal Poly will be on exhibit.

While the visitor browses through the rooms in the various kitchens chocolates are being dipped ever so expertly, cherry creams are given a luscious pink coating before being dipped in chocolate, marmalades and jams bubble busily in big copper kettles, and fragrant pastries emerge from the bakery.

It's a busy place, and in July a tea room will be added. You see the place is still growing!

* * *

The sign in front says "Soups On" — and so it is, all the time. It is the best home-made soup you'll eat anywhere!

The Danish Kitchen features a single menu each day For example, one evening the dinner will be Swiss Steak, another evening it will be Baked Ham, and the next, perhaps, Roast Beef. Complete dinners are served, family style, and there's no quibbling with the children over who will have what. It is all delicious, and the pastries are baked by Mrs. Hansen (the owner) right in the restaurant's kitchen.

No Need To Dial Prefix When Calling YU Number

A correction to a recent announcement of a change in dialing procedure was made today by H. T. Powell, General Telphone manager for the YUkon number area. "All YUkon customers must continue to dial only the five digits without the prefix, when calling another YUkon number," he said.

It had been announced earlier that dialing of the YUkon prefix would become necessary when the new Ontario central office cut into service on Sunday, May 17. Prefix dialing has now been moved up to Aug. 15 to avoid technical difficulties in certain areas within the exchange, Mr. Powell stated.

At the same time he announced a change of date of the telephone bill for approximately 1400 customers in the Ontario exchange. "Customers whose present telephone number begins with Yukon 4- will have the effective date of their telephone bills changed from the 27th of the month to the 11th," Mr. Powell said.

"To avoid any possible inconvenience to our customers, there will be no telephone bill in May for those affected by the billing date change," Powell continued. "Instead, they will receive a bill dated June 11, 1959, which will include, in addition to the regular monthly charge, adjusted charges under the heading of miscellaneous charges and credits to cover the differences between the April 27 and June 11 bill."

Other customers in Ontario will experience no change of billing date.

Powell also reminded subscribers who now have 6-digit telephone numbers that their new 5-digit numbers (YUkon 4-XXXX) went into effect on May 17. The new numbers are included in the new telephone directory. There are approximately 6500 customers with 6-digit numbers.

Report From Europe

Couples From Upland Tour Europe Via Car

Crossing the Atlantic by air, with stops at Lisbon, Portugal and Barcelona, Spain, Mr. Paine writes from Nice, France that Dr. Wenger had received delivery of a Lancia in which the two couples would tour the continent, driving first to Turin, Italy, which he calls the "Detroit of Europe." They visited the Monte Carlo casino and also saw the palace of Princess Grace. In Turin, they visited the Fiat and Lancia factories, and he says "This area is booming and Communism is losing." Contrasts are noted in buildings dating back to 400 A.D., and very modern buildings and apartments; oxen used on some farms, while neighbors use tractors and trucks. He says, "We have had interesting experiences with the language, and it is amazing how easy a smile and the sign language will get results."

Stops were made at Reggio Emilia, Italy, Florence and Rome and the weather for the trip called perfect. Zurich, Switzerland Mr. Paine describes as "a wonderful, beautiful city - a lake on the east side with gently sloping hills on each side of the lake. Big stores are filled with people. This nation has never had a war and prosperity prevails."

In Vienna, the vacationers went to the opera and took in a night club. From Lucerne, he mentions the spectacular view of Lake Lucerne, with the sloping tree-covered hills and snow-capped Alps in the background, with the weather "99 per cent perfect," at every stop.

"Everyone seems to be busy, new construction going on, tourists are a big business and everyone is 'hopeful' the Berlin crisis will pass," he continues, "Italy and Austria are counting heavily on the U. S."

They visited a newspaper office and plant in Rome and found it modernly equipped; also talked with as many people as possible, to learn as much as they can of each place visited.

Taking a plane from Zurich to Frankfurt, Germany, Mr. Paine says that the waiting room was crowded, with many Americans, Germans, Swiss and Italians, with "people generally looking much alike, only their language is different. English is understood everywhere, assisted by a smile and a gesture."

In a later letter, he says, "Switzerland is beautiful, probably the gem of the world in many respects. The weather is perfect, and the trip — is giving us a wonderful concept of life in Europe. Surely, this is now one world. These people know much about America and conditions and politics in many countries."

The travelers found English language papers and magazines in Rome, Paris and London, mentioning Readers Digest, Life, Time and the Saturday Evening Post.

From Frankfurt, stops were made in Heidelburg, Wiesbaden, a steamer trip to Cologne, followed by an air trip to Amsterdam, then Brussels, Belgium and on to Lille, France and Paris, visiting all the well known points of interest.

Several days were to be spent in London, where the Paines will board the "Empress of Britain" for the return trip. The Wengers are returning by plane.

Margaret Welton and Willard Denman of Ariz., Mrs. Opal Reeder, Okla. and Mrs. Henry Lowe of Riverside; and one brother, Doyle of Texas.

Mr. Firkins, a veteran of WW II, where he served in the Army medical corps, Armored Division, died at Veterans Hospital, Long Beach, Wed., May 20, at the age of 40. He was born in Oklahoma, and had been a resident of Cucamonga since 1937.

Final Rites Held For Mrs. Magill

Funeral services for Mrs. Caroline Amelia Magill, wife of Arthur H. Magill, 272 W. 16th St., were held Saturday morning at 123 West "G" St., with entombment following at Bellevue Cemetery. The Rev. Cliff T. Wilkinson, pastor of Westminister Presbyterian Church, Ontario, officiated.

Survivors include her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Leland Davidson of Upland; a son, Frederick Harrison Magill, Oroville; three grandchildren, and five great-grandchildren.

James Rohrbaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Schwerdtfeger of 1474 No. Mountain Ave., Upland, will receive a Bachelor of Science degree with a major in Instrumental Music at Bemidji State College, Bemidji, Minnesota, Sunday, May 31.

Council Seeks Agenda To Benefit Public At Meets

An agenda which will aid the public was brought up in Upland City Council meeting by Councilman John Nicholson Tuesday, May 19.

"There are occasions when persons in the audience have an interest in some item on the agenda," Mr. Nicholson noted. "Yet other items which concern no one in the audience are often taken up first. Councilman Jarvis Leman and I wondered if a method couldn't be evolved to enable us to act first on the matters of interest to persons who are present."

City Clerk Helen Cassel reported there was some disagreement among cities as to how the agenda should be handled for council meetings. "Some cities feel they save time concerning the public last on the agenda," Mrs. Cassel explained. The theory is that persons who might take up two hours at start of the meeting would only use 15 minutes hours later.

"That may be a time saver," Mr. Nicholson declared, backed by the other Upland city councilmen, "but that's not the democratic way."

Alta Loma Campus Progress Reported

Two buildings on the Alta Loma campus of Chaffey College are expected to be reviewed for acceptance next month, according to President Daniel B. Milliken.

Mr. Milliken informed the district board of trustees during regular meeting, Wednesday, May 20, that the electrical contractor is completing basic installation so the campus can be connected for power. "This contractor will soon be connecting the transformers to serve the Aeronautics and Electronics buildings, which are scheduled for delivery to the college district in June," Mr. Milliken reported.

Also on the district's action calendar for June is awarding of the curb construction contract for Haven and Wilson avenues which form boundaries for the new campus.

Mr. Milliken said Associated Engineers have completed the detailed technical specifications. Bids will be called for as soon as plans have been approved by the county surveyor, Flood Control Commission and Road Commission.

"It is anticipated," Mr. Milliken said, "that the Business Education, Library, Social Science and Language Arts buildings will be turned over to the board at the September meeting."

Other campus progress reported by Mr. Milliken:

Preliminary grading of the airstrip has been completed.

Work has started on the landscaping plan.

There will be a total of 116 laboratories and classrooms on the new campus compared to 56 on the present campus. A total of 90 on the new campus are contemplated for being equipped by Feb. 1, 1960.

The district should be able to go for bids on the swimming pools and basic utilities and curbs for the stadium in September.

All the rooms on the campus have been numbered and keys scheduled.

It is planned to hold the All-Employe Banquet on the Alta Loma campus in September.

LOCAL DOCTOR HONORED FOR OUTSTANDING WORK

He was one of the original recipients of the Citation for Distinguished Service of the Huron College Alumni Assn., being so honored in 1956.

Dr. Wood, who established an international reputation as a medical-missionary in Brazil, has also been previously cited by the British and Brazilean governments, and the national Presbyterian Church. He gained a high reputation for his work in tropical medicine as a doctor in Brazil, where he built the nation's finest hospital at Ponte Nova, according to an announcement of the College.

The increasing dissemination of such information as the preceding accounts for the fact that during the past couple of years over nine out of ten communities voting on the fluoridation question have rejected it, and Dr. John W. Knudson of the U. S. Public Health Service, in testifying under oath in 1957 before a congressional committee, had to admit that not over 5 per cent of the communities in the U. S. being fluoridated had had opportunity to vote on the question. Not one city in California has accepted fluoridation at the polls since 1954 when Palo Alto did so. That that city did so is not surprising, when young business men of the city created such noise and disturbance at meetings at which opponents were speakers that those really interested in obtaining information were badly disturbed and one meeting with an out of town speaker was completely disrupted.

Upland will not tolerate fluoridation. If instituted without an election, a subsequent election will unquestionably throw it out, as was done in Rio Vista, the first community in the state to fluoridate, and San Diego, and elsewhere.

This brings us to the loose statements made by writers to an Upland newspaper about opponents of fluoridation and their connections.

Two letters referred disparagingly to Mr. Walter Miller of Palo Alto as being a grocery clerk. One writer stated that this fact was "verified." Mr. Miller would not deny that. He is also a member of the school board of his own community, having been elected by a sound majority. He is Secretary-Treasurer of the California Committee of the Pure Water Association of America, of which Granville F. Knight, M.D., F.A.C.A., is President, and I have the honor of being vice-president. If there is anyone in the Upland area, including dentists and physicians, who has accumulated more scientific information on the subject of fluoridation than has he, I am very much mistaken. Several professional men have met him in panel discussions to their sorrow, including the Dental Director of the California State Health Department.

In ten years of research and working against the fluoridation program I have become pretty well informed as to who know anything about it. The name of the physician who wrote so sarcastically is not on my list of such people.

The dentist who wrote regarding the opposition to fluoridation in San Diego, saying that it was led by a publishing concern that published anti-fluoridation literature, was also completely off base. I am chairman of the San Diego Citizens Pure Water Committee, and was the one dentist who openly worked against fluoridation, providing much of the professional and scientific information used. I know what occurred.

The publishing concern mentioned consists of some dedicated workers, a couple of borrowed mimeograph machines and numerous personally owned typewriters scattered over the city. I know of no publishing concern in this area that did then or does now publish anti-fluoridation literatore. I wish I did. There is no such concern.

San Diego citizens defeated the fluoridationists by sticking to the truth and common sense, a lot of hard work preparing and passing out innumerable hand-bills because the press, TV and radio were strictly with the proponents, and by the expenditure of not to exceed 10 percent of the amount of money spent by the proponents directly. Indirectly we had to compete against the several millions of dollars spent in general fluoridation propaganda by the U.S. Public Health Service and local and state health departments, tax monies of which we had to pay our share and which was used against us.

Upland will not fluoridate. Wanna bet?

Very truly yours,
JOHN E. WATTERS,D.D.S.
